

NOVEMBER 2021 NEWSLETTER

CC NEWS

CC Advisory Group
Finalizes Responsibilities and Membership Terms

More info.

PRODUCT NEWSEBSCO Education Source

Combines the content of Wilson Education Index and EBSCO Education Research Complete. Now includes nearly 900 active full text journals.

More info.

NEWSWiley UBCM Ebooks

With the addition of several NCICU schools, this UNC System deal has become a joint CC/UNC initiative.

More info

FEATURED - Open Access

The Carolina Consortium Advisory Group met during Open Access Week and approved the following statement on Open Access-

The Carolina Consortium strongly supports Open Access because it ensures the broadest possible dissemination of high quality information. We are currently experimenting with several different OA models and would welcome the opportunity to build OA into more of our consortium deals.

Joseph Thomas (East Carolina University) is coordinating and leading many of the CC's OA initiatives, which currently include:

Two uncapped Read and Publish deals - Cambridge and Karger

One Read and Publish deal with a shared voucher pool - Wiley (coming soon!)

One Subscribe to Open deal - Annual Reviews

One limited voucher deal - IGI Global

Two flat APC Discount deals - Oxford and SAGE

For more details see the

CC Deals Web Page

CC Library Spotlight-

Daniel Library, The Citadel

Founded in 1842, The Citadel has an undergraduate student body of about 2,300 students who make up the South Carolina Corps of Cadets. Another 1,000 students attend The Citadel Graduate College, a civilian evening and online program that offers graduate and professional degrees as well as undergraduate programs.

Website

The Citadel is a founding member of the Carolina Consortium. Daniel Library currently has 9 CC subscriptions to databases, journals, and streaming films.

Events

Wednesday Nov 10, 2:00 - Discussion of the Wiley R&P Shared Voucher pool details

Thursday Dec 2, 11:00 - What's New at Docuseek

For a current list of events, see:

CC Events Web Page

Carolina Consortium membership is free. It is the only large multi-state consortium to operate without membership fees, charges, or paperwork.

Upcoming Renewals and Expirations

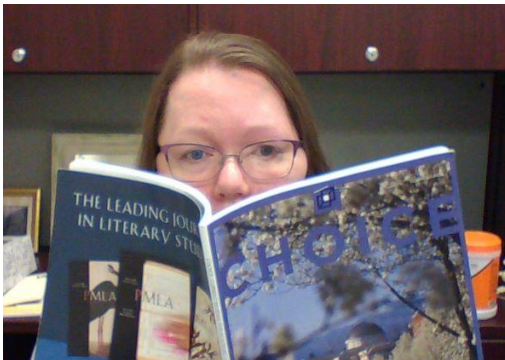

The following EBSCO database subscriptions expire Dec 31st: and renew/cancel/subscribe decisions are due by Dec 3rd.

Complete, Premier, and Ultimate Packages of 14 databases; America History and Life; PsycInfo (for NC only); Art & Architecture Source; Associates Program Source; CINAHL Complete; Communication and Mass Media Complete; Communications Source; Criminal Justice Abstracts; HaPI; Historical Abstracts; Humanities International; Library and Information Science Source; Medcom Nursing videos; and Points of View Reference Center.

CC NEWS AND UPDATES

We are planning to hold the annual CC meeting in-person in Greensboro on May 10, 2022. Mark your calendars for this day long event!

Meet Carolina Consortium Advisory Group member Carol Keck.

Carol is the Technical Services Librarian at Guilford Technical Community College. She is responsible for OCLC services, collection development, budget, acquisitions, databases, and periodicals. In addition to starting a Graphic Novels collection, Carol helped the libraries start an online collection with Overdrive. Her marriage obligates her to say “Go Duke!” during college sports of any kind, and she was disappointed to learn exactly how many sports that included. She prefers reading, watching PBS, and walking in natural places.

NEED MORE CAROLINA CONSORTIUM INFO?

This newsletter does not contain confidential details like CC pricing, inflation rates, or usage stats for individual schools. For that reason, it is fine to share this newsletter with colleagues within or outside the CC.

CC members can request access to the CC’s detailed confidential information by sending an email request to bucknall@uncg.edu

If any CC library staff member would like to join the CC listserv and get more frequent and detailed updates via email, please email a request to bucknall@uncg.edu