Have you ever seen this message after you click a “check for full text” link?

Remember, check for full text only looks for articles, not for books.

Look to find out if we have this journal in print. Click on notes to find out which years and volumes we own. We might have the article you need!

But sometimes we don't own the article online or in print. If so, you can click the Interlibrary Loan link then log in with your iSpartan user name and password to ask that our staff find a copy of the article from another institution.

If you need more help, click on Ask Us!